LEONARD HARRISON STATE FOREST PARK

One of the most popular points in the Canyon Country this scenic point lies directly on the Canyon's rim and is the only Canyon viewpoint that can be reached by all-paved roads. State Route 660 leads from Wellsboro to the Park.

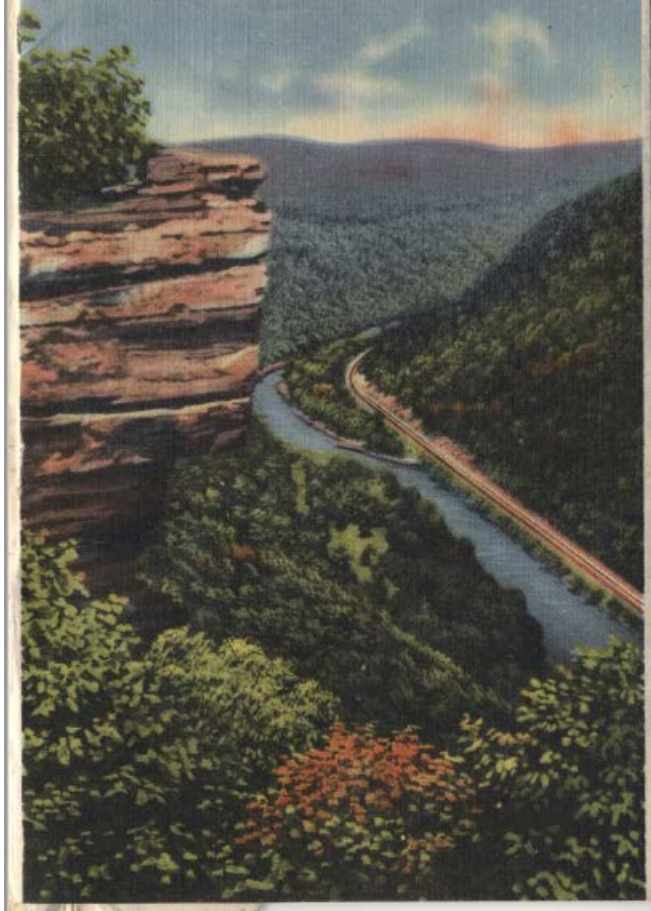

Here you will find an extensive parking area, picnic tables, fireplaces, shelters,— here are the most spectacular views of Pennsylvania's Grand Canyon.

Interesting and beautiful walks and trails lead to look-out points, waterfalls and glens. It is a delightful spot in which to spend a full day of enjoyable exploration and relaxation.

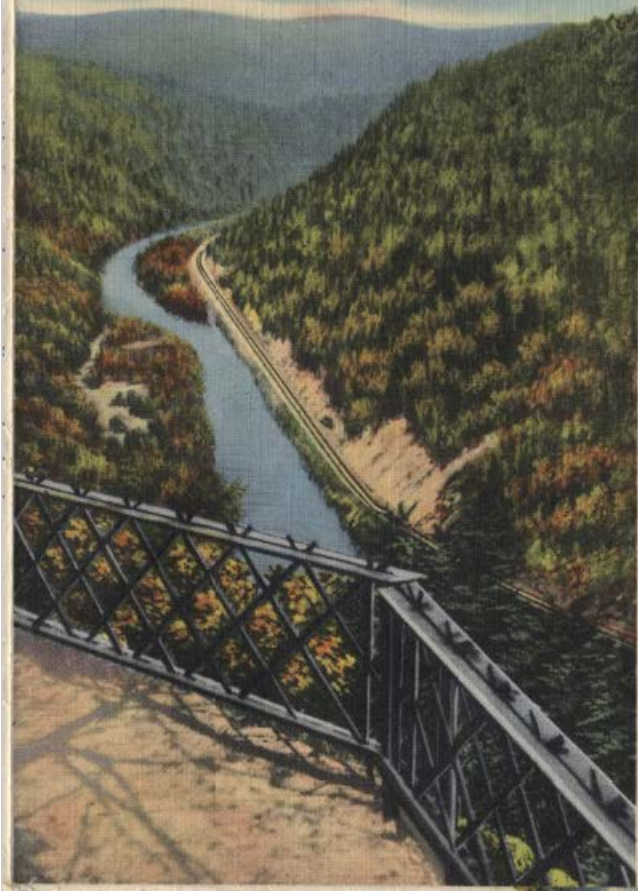

One of the most interesting trails in Harrison Park leads down the mountain in switchback fashion to the glen of Little Four Mile Run, a typical mountain stream. In the glen are several very beautiful waterfalls which can be viewed from the "Turkey Path", as the trail is called. On even the hottest days it is cool and shady along the trail which continues along the woody stream to Pine Creek itself. The hike down and back, while not advised for elderly people, is well worth the hour or so necessary.
